“For the first time ever, we'll be able to accurately replicate all of the action and movement in real-life situations,” said Michael Ebling, FIFA Lead Gameplay Producer. “This means that all players will feel like they're running out on to the field, and the player animations and facial expressions will be more realistic, as if they were truly competing in a match.” Next, we're looking to improve the match flow and balance of the gameplay. We'll be putting a larger emphasis on team tactical play, tactical structure, and ball control than ever before. Whether players are on the wing, in the midfield, or up top, every player will perform the same way in order to increase the depth and variety of the experience. FIFA 22 introduces "HyperMotion Technology," which uses motion capture data collected from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay. “For the first time ever, we'll be able to accurately replicate all of the action and movement in real-life situations,” said Michael Ebling, FIFA Lead Gameplay Producer. “This means that all players will feel like they're running out on to the field, and the player animations and facial expressions will be more realistic, as if they were truly competing in a match.” Next, we're looking to improve the match flow and balance of the gameplay. Technical Improvements FIFA 22 introduces new realistic and immersive lighting technology that makes everything look better in-game. There is also more of a unified, overall look to the whole game. FIFA 22 also introduces new ball physics that will better handle the velocity, size, behavior, and movement of the ball. Next, we've added new animated crowds and a deeper overall atmosphere as there is sound and visual feedback. FIFA 22 brings back global crowd chants and we've enhanced the crowd reactions so that you can feel the atmosphere in the stadium and on the pitch. Overall the visual

FIFA is the world's most popular football simulation. The series was launched on the Super Nintendo Entertainment System back in 1994 and has been a major success for the past two decades. FIFA is the world's most popular football simulation. The series was launched on the Super Nintendo Entertainment System back in 1994 and has been a major success for the past two decades. The original FIFA as an authentic football experience. Even today, many games focus more on gameplay complexity than fun. Our team created FIFA with the same philosophy: simple controls, easy-to-use physics and real game situations. Our goal is to bring even more fun and realism to the football experience. With a new engine, physics and gameplay advancements, the 2012 FIFA is closer to real football than ever. Gameplay takes advantage of the new engine to create more ball control and make handling the ball faster and easier than ever. There are new passing and dribbling mechanics and more options to play advanced or dynamic football matches, including new goalkeepers and the use of real players in real time. You can even take control of the ball on the pitch and use the entire team from the sidelines. The Agent Creation System and new cards give you even more control to create a perfect game situation. There are now more than 250 cards and 40 locations to discover. You can also select the team or players you want to face. New goals, shoot-outs and an innovative Virtual Pro Challenge mode make soccer just as fun for hardcore players as the fans at the stadiums. Features Pass Master The new Pass Master is the most realistic football control system yet. You can now control the ball with pinpoint accuracy and speed. The Pass Master not only improves the passing and receiving, but makes decision making in every passing situation even easier. Dribbling Achieving quality dribbling and passes is now easier than ever. Feints and tricks are more realistic thanks to physics adjustments and new passing and dribbling mechanics. Real players, Real time The new engine brings new players to life in real time. No more planning a pass - your team mates behave like real players and make their moves on the pitch. Choose from a variety of real players and get the ultimate football experience. Handling the ball Whether it's using a through ball, lob or pass a defender while moving, you'll never tire of the thrilling ball control. Agent Creation System
